THE

DAILY BULLETIN.

Published every afternoon and delivered in this city, the suburbs and Aberdeen by our carriers, at 6 CENTS a week.

It is welcomed in the households of men of both political parties, for the reason that it is more of a newspaper than a political journal.

Its wide circulation therefore makes it a valuable vehicle for business announcements, which we respectfully invite to our columns.

"TREADWATER JIM."

"Who's dat? W'y dat's Treadwater Jim—
De wust little nigger in town—
What de fokes all sez dey'll hang him.
'Kase why, hit don't seem be kin drown!
He keeps hisself dere in de watah
'Round haf ob his time in de year.
An' ef he's got any home 'round hyar
Hits out on de eend ob dat pier!"

"Well, de name what he's got—it was gin him
By fokes what was kno' in de facts;
For day see dat sum tittle was due him
'Kase he'd done wun de nobles' of acks!
Ob koarse I kin tell ye de story,
'Kase I was rite dar on de spot,
An' ef Jim is entitl'd to glory
He fairly earnt all dat he got!"

"Yer see, hit wuz out on de wahf, dar,
Wun sunshiny mawnin in May,
Dat er little chille um de Nawf, Sar,
Wuz taken out dar ter ter play;
An' Jim wuz out dar wid his fish-line,
An' de nuss warn't a-watchin de chille,
So hit walk'd off rite inter de brine
At dat dornder dar by de big pile."

"Well, den dar wuz skreamin' and cryin'
Fum all de folks 'round on de pier,
But Jim seed hit warn't no use tryin'
Ter reskew de chille fum up heah—
So he tuck er long dive fer de watah
An' struck whar de chille hed gone down,
An' hit took him so long ter ter fine it
De people tho't bofe 'em would drown."

"But purty soon out in de stream dar
Er kinky black hed cum in site,
An' he close ter his bres' wif bofe han's, Sah,
Wuz de baby all limpy an' white!
Den de mouns ob de people wuz open'd
In er long an' enkridgin' shout!
'Cum on wid de bote, men! Jim holler'd—
'I'll tread watah ontell yer git out!"

"Den dey bent ter der ores like Marters,
An' flew ter whar Jim, wid de chille,
Wuz doin' his bes' ter keep floatin'
But weakunin' hiz lick all de while
Dey brought de two heah ter de landin',
An' de murther wuz crazy wid j. y.
While de father jiss retch'd fer dat darky,
An' hugged him ez do' his own boy!"

"So, yer see dat's de reezin day gib him
De name dat yer heer'd me jess call—
An' nobody bodders all ng wid Jim.
An' he does ez he pleezes wid all!
So koarse, what ne done wuz rite brave, sah,
An' mebbe wuz wurthy er crown—
But Jim—well, Jim's jess de blamedes'
No count little nigger in town!"

ANOTHER OUTLAW SHOT.

Wood Hite, a Fugitive From Missouri, Killed in Kansas.

Under date of April 9th comes the following from Kansas City:

Wood Hite, another of the Missouri train robbers, was shot and killed near Richmond, Kansas, last Thursday on the same day that Jesse James was buried in Nebraska. The murderer of Hite is not known, but the outlaw is believed to have been killed by Al. Ford or Dick Little, both of whom had sworn to take his life whenever an opportunity was presented. Wood Hite was a member of the James gang. He participated in the daring and famous train robberies at Glendale and Winston, and is the brother of Clarence Hite, who was tried here only three weeks ago, and sentenced to twenty-five years in the Missouri penitentiary. The body of Hite was found in a swamp near Richmond by a farmer who went to draw water. The dead man had been dressed in the common, rough clothes of a stock drover, wore high top boots, a slouch hat and bushy black beard which at first concealed the bullet holes in his head. The water where the body was found is near the Ford farm, and as Wood Hite is believed to have had no companion and was almost a stranger in the place, it is presumed that he met some one on the farm who knew him and the murder ensued. There were no evidences of a struggle in Hite's appearance. The shot, which entered the head above the ear and passed out at the other side of the head, must have been fired as unexpectedly and brought as speedy a death as the ball that killed Jesse James. The inquest has been held and the jury, which was at first unable to identify the dead, found that he came to his death at the hands of some one unknown. Al. Ford identified the body. No one knew anything about the shooting. It is not unlikely that both Little and Ford will be arrested for the murder.

In January last the Kansas City officers

raided Captain Ford's house in the hope of finding Jesse James. Dick Little (who is still at large) was in the room when the officers forced an entrance. None of them knew him, however, and he was smuggled out under the very noses of the police. Frank James is now the only one left who is operating. He is believed to be in the East somewhere. Jesse James killed seven of his own gang; five—all young men—are now serving terms in prison, and three or four others are under the protection of the law. Sharp as the campaign against the robbers has been, Captain Ford thinks that there will be much more trouble in the future. His brother, Robert, the slayer of Jesse James, has received a threatening letter signed "Remo," enclosed in an official envelope of the Tennessee Legislature, and dated Nashville, Tenn., April 4th. The letter is written with a lead pencil, and vows bitter and bloody vengeance upon Robert for killing Jesse James. Both the Ford boys are pampered and toasted, and receive their friends and admirers in the most genial manner. They are both confident that the body of the dead outlaw will be stolen from its grave. Question with regard to the report that he regretted having killed Jesse since confinement, Robert said: "Yes, I did say that; but it was in fun. Why, I would have killed Jesse if I knew I had to go to jail for a year. It was a ground-hog case. I had killed one of his pals, and helped to arrest another, and joined the detectives. He would have killed me had he known of these circumstances."

Wood Hite, whose strange death forms the latest episode in the history of these robbers, was a noted gambler. He won from his companions nearly all the money they stole, and carried all his winnings with him. His home was in Logan county, Ky.

Nature doubts whether our fish commissioners will be able greatly to increase the yield of sea fish like shad, herring, and cod. The arguments of Malthus respecting the food supply and the increase of population are thought in England to be applicable to fish. "Sea fish, like all other animals," it says, "are undoubtedly increasing in greater proportion than their food; and it is obvious, therefore, that unless man can increase their food, it is only lost labor to increase their number."

He owned and built several of the finest and fastest steamers plying the Southern waters.

Arctic Steamer Lost.

NEW YORK, April 18.—The following is by special cable to the Herald:

IRKUTSK, SIBERIA, April 18th, 1882.—I have this morning received startling news from Mr. Jackson, the special commissioner who was sent in search of the Jeanette survivors. He apparently forwarded the dispatch by courier. It ran as follows:

FROM THE BANKS OF THE ALDEN RIVER, April 6th, 1882.—I have just met a courier bearing dispatches from W. H. Gilder, Herald correspondent with the Rodgers, whom the courier had accompanied from Kolyma, on the Kolyma River, to Verkhoyansk, four hundred miles north of Yakutsk. Gilder has made the journey of two thousand versts among the Chukches. He was sent forward with the news the Rodgers had been burned and sunk; that Lieutenant Berry, with the officers and crew, thirty-six in number, are at Tiapka, near Cape Serdze; that a vessel should be sent for them as early as possible.

PILES! PILES! PILES!

A Sure Cure Found at Last—No One Need Suffer!

A sure cure for blind, bleeding, itching and ulcerated piles has been discovered by Dr. William, (an Indian remedy,) called Dr. Williams' Indian Ointment. A single box has cured the worst chronic cases of twenty-five or thirty years standing. No one need suffer five minutes after applying this wonderful soothing medicine. Lotions instruments and electrics do more harm than good. Williams' Ointment absorbs the tumors, allays the intense itching, (particularly at night after getting warm in bed,) acts as a poultice, gives instant and painless relief, and is prepared only for piles, itching of the private parts, and nothing else.

Read what the Hon. J. M. Coffinberry, of Cleveland, says about Dr. Williams' Pile Ointment: I have used scores of pile cures, and it affords me pleasure to say that I have never found anything which gave me such immediate and permanent relief as Dr. Williams' Indian Ointment.

Skin Diseases Cured

BY DR. FRAZIER'S MAGIC OINTMENT. Cures as if by magic, pimples, black head or grubs, blotches and eruptions on the face, leaving the skin clear, healthy and beautiful. Also cures itch, barber's itch, salt rheum, tetter, ringworm, scald head, chapped hands, sore nipples, sore lips, old obstinate ulcers and sores, &c.

SKIN DISEASE.

F. Drake, Esq., Cleveland, O., suffered beyond all description from a skin disease which appeared on his hands, head and face, and nearly destroyed his eyes. The most careful doctoring failed to help him, and after all had failed he used Dr. Frazier's Magic Ointment and was cured by a few applications.

The first and positive cure for skin diseases ever discovered.

Dr. Frazier's Root Bitters.

Frazier's Root Bitters are not a dram-shop whisky beverage, but are strictly medicinal in every sense. They act strongly upon the liver and kidneys, keep the bowels open and regular, make the weak strong, heal the lungs, build up the nerves and cleanse the blood and system of every impurity.

For dizziness, rush of blood to the head tending to apoplexy, dyspepsia, fever and ague, dropsy, pimples and blotches, scrofulous humors and sores, tetter, ring worm, white swelling, erysipelas, sore eyes and for young men suffering from weakness or debility caused from imprudence, and to females in delicate health, Frazier's Root Bitters are especially recommended.

Dr. Frazier: I have used two bottles of your Root Bitters for dyspepsia, dizziness, weakness and kidney disease, and they did me more good than the doctors and all the medicine I ever used. From the first dose I took I began to mend, and I am now in perfect health, and feel as well as I ever did. I consider your medicine one of the greatest blessings.

BATCHELDER'S Ventilated Egg Case.

Patented February 15, 1881.

Indispensable to Merchants Shippers And Producers.

The outside frame of this carrier contains five trays, held in place by fasteners at end of case, as seen in cut. These Trays are constructed in reversible halves. The above cut shows one whole tray filled ready to be placed in case, each egg resting in its cardboard socket in such a manner as to be readily counted, candled, or transferred from tray to tray; or case to case, without rehandling.

For cold storage this case will store 60 dozen with racks made to receive the half trays, hence this is the cheapest storage case manufactured, saving largely in space.

The manner of holding the eggs on end prevents oscillation, adding, or breakage, and adds greatly to their freshness when carried long in storage. Size of 30 dozen No. 1 cases 25x12x14, weighs 20 pounds.

PRICES IN CHICAGO.

Shipper's No. 1, 30 doz. Case with Fillers complete 65 Cents.
Farmer's No. 1, 18 doz. Case with Fillers complete 55 Cents.
Cardboard Fillers for refilling 20 Cents.
15 per cent. discount on lots of 100 cases.
Batchelder's Egg Tester, 1 string 6 doz. at once, saves to buyers many times its cost each season. Price $3.00.

By special arrangements made by the manufacturers of this case most Railroads will receive them as fourth class freight.

The 18 dozen case made especially for Farmers' use, sent to any address by express, with out mailing, with full directions for setting up, on receipt of 50 cents. Every Farmer and consumer should have one of these cases, it will save its cost every month. Agents wanted in every county. Address,

Notes on Tobacco Growing.

The following is from the Tobacco Journal: Farmers who would be successful in growing tobacco must know the importance of raising an abundant supply of strong, healthy and early plants. It will not do to depend upon one's neighbors for few farmers are willing to share plants until their own wants are supplied, after which the best opportunities for setting are often past, and the remaining plants in the beds are small and weak.

It is desirable to have a succession of plants, some early, some medium early and some later. We are not in favor of setting plants early or before June 15th, only as it gives succession and better opportunity for performing the work well and in season. By having plants large enough to set in the latter part of May or first part of June we are able to commence setting, and by improving every favorable opportunity as regards weather convenience, the whole patch or acreage of tobacco may be planted without a large force of boys and men, and it will be done much better than if done in a hurry by careless and incompetent hands. It also gives more time in topping, suckering and cutting to have tobacco set at different times.

The only safe way is for every tobacco grower to raise his own plants, and to be certain to have enough of them, and to have them early. Put your seed to sprout as soon after April 1st as possible, in sifted, rotted apple-tree wood, and sow carefully and evenly in a well prepared seed bed. Glass or muslin covering for beds is necessary for raising early plants. Constant care and watching is necessary to keep the bed moist and the weeds from obtaining a foothold during the first few weeks after the seed is sown. In raising tobacco plants, as in doing a great many other things, "eternal vigilance is the price of success."

It is advisable to sow one or more seed beds in the open air after the others have been sown, to take the place of the covered beds latter in the season or if they should fail from any cause, the open beds will be convenient to fall back on. The open bed plants are also best for resetting, being stronger and usually better rooted.

In growing plants in open air beds it is a good plan to cover the surface of the bed over with old carpets, straw, or some other like material, for a few days or a week after sowing the seed. In Lancaster county, Pa., hog bristles are largely used for mulching the soil in tobacco beds after sowing the seed, and they serve a very useful and effective purpose, keeping the soil damp and warm. The covering should be removed as soon as the plants get well rooted and started.

The National Genuine Export Lager forms a very pleasant and favorable substitute for ordinary drinking water, so frequently contaminated and unwholesome. Lovers of a good glass of old lager will do well to give the following parties a call: Fred. Otto, Simons & McMurtry, George M. Thompson, F. Schatzmann, Robert Wileet and Ed. Lambden. a145td.

PERSONALS.

Points About People Here and Elsewhere.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam M. Hall are expected home this week.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hancock, will go to Mt. Olivet, Robertson county, next week, to take charge of a hotel there. Miss Sallie Eason will accompany them.

Prices Reduced.

John Wheeler, dealer in oysters, fish, game, fruit, etc., has made a heavy reduction in prices. Fresh fish at six, and eight cents a pound received daily. Canned goods at greatly reduced prices.

THE work of improving Third street, between Short and Lower has been resumed.

The Ripley Bee says:

Ollie Neal was arrested and locked up on last Saturday, for raising a disturbance at the house of Lindsey Jackson. As no affidavit was filed against him he was discharged.

THE following marriage licenses have been issued in Brown county, Ohio, since our last report:

Wm. Malott and Lovana Stratton.
Michael Carpenter and Eva Day.
A. J. Bering and Mary A. Hall.
Robert Wood and Amanda Nelson.
Wm. Richards and Sarah Parsons.
Stewards Kincaid and A. M. Gilliland.

The Flemingsburg Democrat says:

Marion B. Tolle, a resident of the Johnson Junction neighborhood, left his home last Monday and has not been heard of since. On the morning in question he got up later than usual, put on his every-day clothes, ate breakfast and went out apparently to go to work, but has not made his appearance since. A body of men have been scouring the country looking in wells, creeks, and every other nook and corner. He has always lived harmoniously with his family and no cause can be assigned for his abandoning them. He has a wife and two children.

THE following complimentary notice of the Hon. J. D. Kehoe, is taken from the Frankfort correspondence of the Courier-Journal. He has certainly represented the county worthily and is recognized at the capital as one of the brightest and most promising members of the Legislature:

Dexter Kehoe, in the management of the Legislative Reconstruction Bill, acted with a coolness, skill and dexterity (a pun) that indicate fine talent for orderly management in chaos. To him Mason county is indebted for being brought up to her just position among the counties of the State by being given two Representatives. Taken all together, he is one of the best Representatives Mason has ever sent to this House.

VENNOR says: Fine, warm to hot and dry weather on and after the 22nd. Rain falls in April not up to the average. Dry, easterly winds. Second Sunday after Easter, probably change to warmer and generally dry weather. Indications of storms, probably with high winds. Rest of month as in calendar.

April is the key of the season.

April showers make May flowers.

April's entry in white is the farmer's delight.

April must melt the ice or May will preserve it.

An old English proverb runs: "If the first three days of April be foggy, there will be a flood in June," which means a wet midsummer or harvest.

Only a Pastoral Kiss.

Chicago News.

"You want to know what I have to say about the card in the Morning News accusing me of kissing Mrs. Beekman, do you?" said the Rev. George Swainforth, a disciple of that lady, this morning. "Well, what I have to say about it is that, in the sense in which it was meant to be taken, it is fallacious."

"Didn't you kiss her?"
"Well, if I should say 'yes,' or say 'no,' it wouldn't answer the question."

"Well, didn't you kiss her?"
"I kissed her in the same way and sense that I would my mother or sister."

"How did it happen?"

"We were holding meetings with the Union church at Paw Paw, Ind., about two years ago. I had been requested by Mr. Beekman to give Mrs. Beekman as many drives in the open air as possible, on account of her health. One day I took her on a drive about seven miles over to Earlville, Ill., and back. We were staying at the house of the pastor, the Rev. Mr. Mann, at the time, and when we started the family all came out to the door and kissed her good-by. I did not kiss her then, but after the buggy got about thirty feet, and while it was in full sight of the family, I kissed her also. A wagon containing a family of neighbors was passing at the time, and I suppose it was they who took the trouble to spread the report."

"How many times have you kissed Mrs. Beekman?"

"What a question that is for you to ask!"

"Well, as you did it innocently, I supposed you were not ashamed of it?"

"I am not ashamed of it at all. Both Mr. Mann and I have kissed Mrs. Beekman a good many times. One old brother, named Pine, about ninety-five years of age, kissed her in sight of the whole congregation at Paw Paw one day. Why, I have kissed this brother here, and his wife, with whom I am staying, and who are listening to this interview. Why! Didn't the Ephesian elders fall on Paul's neck and kiss him?"

"Paul and the elders were all men?"

"Well, didn't the women that was a sinner kiss the feet of Jesus?"

"Yes, but Jesus didn't kiss her. Moreover she kissed his feet and not his mouth. If you believe that Mrs. Beekman is Jesus Christ, do you not think it would be less liable to make a bad impression if you should kiss her feet?"

"Well, in a sense, we do kiss her feet, too. But I think that if we should kiss her feet with our lips it might be more open to suspicious comment than kissing her mouth."

"Then, as kissing is not essential, anyhow, why do you not forego it altogether, and avoid remark?"

"Because Peter said, 'Greet one another with a kiss of charity,' and we are not going to disobey it on account of what might be said about us."

In general there is no one with whom life drags so disagreeably as with him who tries to make it shorter.

White men should exhibit the same insensibility to moral tortures that red men do to physical tortures.

Whatsoever introduces habits in children deserves the care and attention of their governors.—Locke.

He who once did you a kindness will be more ready to do you another than he whom yourself have obliged.

There is not so contemptible a plant or animal that does not confound the most enlarged understanding.—Locke.

For to cast away a virtuous friend I call as bad to cast away one's own life, which one loves best.—Sophocles.

Each man is a hero and an oracle to somebody, and to that person, whatever he says has an enhanced value.—Emerson.

True politeness is perfect ease and freedom. It simply consists in treating others just as you love to be treated yourself.—Chesterfield.

Happy then is he who has laid up in youth, and held fast in all fortune, a genuine and passionate love for reading.—Rufus Choate.

Secretary Frelinghuysen has forwarded to the House of Representatives, in response to a resolution adopted by it in February, some interesting correspondence touching the protection of American citizens in Persia and the establishment of diplomatic relations with that country. A synopsis is printed this morning.
